LIQUOR BILL PASSES

Prohibits the Interstate Shipping of Liquor Into Dry Territory from Another State

A very important bill was put upon its passage last Saturday in the Lower House at Washington which is of great interest and which directly effects conditions here in our own district. The Webb Liquor Bill, which is constructed to put a stop to the practice of shipping intoxicating liquors from one state to another regardless of whether or not that state has voted to be "dry" came to a vote and passed by the overwhelming majority of 240 to 65. The same bill passed the Senate this week and all that now lacks is the President's signature to become a law.

This will be one of the greatest temperance victories won for some time, as this condition has confronted them in this State at every turn where they were making a fight to keep liquor out of a certain community. Recently when our own law making bodies passed laws preventing the shipping of liquor from any section of the State to a section voted "dry" by that community, the wholesale houses and distilleries established branch offices just across the State border lines and would ship their products out of the State and then have it shipped back into which ever community ordered it, and there was no law regulating this interstate shipment heretofore. This then will have a still greater tendency to eliminate the "boot-leggers," for they would have to go where the liquor is legal ly sold and bring it back in person, and in this manner they would assume greater risk of being detected and as our laws are now very strict upon this matter it can easily be seen where the profits would be very small even if not interfered with, and when you add the amount that would be paid in fine which everyone would have to pay sooner or later who deals in this stuff, the number who care to take the risk will be very small indeed, greater the reason why they would be easier caught.

The Kentucky delegation was split on this vote last Saturday, but we are glad to note that both Republican Representatives voted for the bill, namely Hon. Cal Powers and Hon. John W. Langley. Other votes for the bill were Fields, Johnson and Helm, while those who voted against it were Cantrill, James, Shirley and Rouse. Stanley was not recorded as voting.

Anartic Explorers Perish in a Blizzard

LONDON, Feb. 10.—News reached the world today that Captain Robert Scott, the Anartic Explorer and a number of his party perished in the Anartic while on their return from the South Pole. They reached their goal on Jan. 18, 1912, about a month after Captain Roald Amundsen, the Norwegian had planted the flag of his country there. Then they turned back for the base they had formed on the outward journey but were overwhelmed and destroyed by a blizzard.

The news of the death of the explorers was brought to civilization by the Terra Nova, the vessel which had taken the Scott expedition to the South and which had gone to fetch them back after the accomplishment of their task.

A searching party recovered the bodies. Only a few bulletins were sent today from the New Zealand port to Oamaru by the captain of the Terra Nova, who related the fate of the party and then proceeded to Lytleton, where he should arrive Thursday.

The disaster came up as an utter surprise to London and cast a gloom over the community which has been unequalled since the death of King Edward.

It is believed the disaster did not involve all the Scott party of 66, but only Scott himself and the 4 others elected by him for the final dash for the pole.

Captain Scott and his party reached the exact point where Roald Amundsen planted the Norwegian flag at the South Pole. They found there the hut constructed and left behind by Amundsen's party. These facts were recorded and are found in the documents found upon the bodies of the lead explorers.

Progressive Candidate for Jailer of Knox County

To the citizen and voters of Knox County—I hereby announce myself a candidate for the office of Jailer, subject to the action of the Progressive Party, expressed at the poles in the primary election to be held on the first Saturday in August, 1913, under the Election Laws of the State of Kentucky. In making this announcement, I appeal to the citizens and voters of this county for their assistance to secure this nomination and election to the office of Jailer. I hope, and ask the voters to rise above party lines, and past party affiliation and give me your support, by voting for me in the coming primary election.

I am seeking this office, solely on the ground that I want to be Jailer only one term, and that I need the money the State and County pays for the performance of the duties belonging to this office. I have no claims upon the people of this county whatever. In the discharge of my duties, and any services I may have rendered them in any way in the past was only the discharge of duty, and for these voluntary acts whatever they may have been the people owe me nothing. But you have this office to give to some one, and if in your wisdom you shall decide to give it to me, I here and now, promise and pledge to you the faithful performance of all the duties belonging to the office of Jailer to the best of my knowledge and ability, and to your entire satisfaction. With an abiding confidence, and an unshaken faith in your wisdom and willingness to make the right choice in this matter I am,

Your obedient servant,
J. H. BLACKBURN.

FRIEDMANN'S CURE

Report Made by German Scientists Assert that It Is Efficient

Insist, However Upon Giving it Further Tests Before Being Absolutely Sure

An article in Sunday's Louisville Herald which is claimed to be an exclusive interview with German medical officials of Germany relative to the discovery of the tuberculosis serum by Dr. Friedmann gives out the information that the leading scientists and medical men of that country are convinced that it is a wonderful discovery. The German Government has ordered that all information and data available be obtained upon this subject and be printed and scattered for the information of their citizens and for the benefit of the world at large, and in these paragraphs it is stated that there have been some remarkable cures effected and wonderful results obtained by the use of this serum by Dr. Friedmann. This fact is acknowledged by the leading scientists who have subjected some of their patients to his treatment and who state that they have returned cured.

All are not, however, ready to accept this discovery as perfect but prefer to make tests themselves before thoroughly committing themselves.

The majority of these physicians have turned cases they regarded as hopeless over to Dr. Friedmann for treatment and were amazed over successful cures effected.

The new treatment consists of the injection of a solution prepared by the doctor himself, which he says, contains living non-virulent bacilli taken from the cold-blooded animals in contradistinction to the virulent organism contained in Koch's tuberculin and other tuberculosis remedies. Up to November 18, last Dr. Friedmann claims to have treated 1,182 cases and said inoculation was an assured success.

Dr. Friedmann has so far concealed the method of preparing his remedy for use. He announces that he does not want to disclose this secret until he is prepared to manufacture it in sufficient quantities to supply the profession. At present he is treating all cases that come to his institute in Berlin.

The consul reports that the medical profession in Berlin have not accepted the remedy as of practical use, and reserve judgement until they have been given an opportunity to make their own tests. All seem to admit however, that Dr. Friedmann has effected some wonderful cures, and they are interested in the discovery.

An American, H. Prescott Simpson, who left the United States for Berlin to investigate this cure is very bitter in his denunciation of this so-called cure. He is a victim of tuberculosis and went there to try the cure and returned claiming to have some of the Friedmann serum and a personally formed opinion of Dr. Friedmann which is in no way complimentary to the doctor. He says, "I have seen and studied this most illustrious charlatan, and have no hesitation in stating that he is the Dr. Cook of the medical profession. As for his so-called cure it is not new, neither is it the discovery of Dr. Friedmann. It may be good as an immunizing agent, and more or less effective as an antitoxin, but in my opinion it offers no more hope of a permanent cure than does Koch's tuberculin to-day."

Mr. Simpson is himself a victim of tuberculosis, and went to Berlin armed with letters of introduction from the first tuberculosis experts in this country.
